MURCHIE UNWATERING UNDER WAY WESTERN MERGER MILL IS STARTING

Pumping operations at the Murchie mine are progressing nicely with the water down to the 275 level on Friday. The unwatering will be somewhat slow down to the 400 level owing to the large areas of stoped out ground above that level which must be drained out. It is estimated that it will take two weeks to complete the unwatering to the 400.

As soon as the unwatering is done to that level, work will be started on extending the drift south to cut under the rich shoot of ore picked up in the Murchie Lease some months ago. There is not a great deal of drift to be run to pick up the shoot and will afford a considerable amount of backs. It will not be a difficult matter to complete the unwatering of the property as the bulk of the old workings are above the 400. The shaft is 1150 feet deep and was reported in excellent rock at the time of its closing down some years ago.

An ejector is being used in the unwatering and is proving quite successful in operation and economical. The big Cornish pumps are still well under water and will not be used until uncovered and gone over.

The grounds about the plant are being improved and beautified and flowers planted which will make an inviting place when completed.

Superintendent J. M. Hoff went below this week on business.

Mill tests were being made Saturday and yesterday preparatory to putting the new stamp mill in operation at the Western Merger mine, Nevada City's newest producing mine property. President A. A. Codd was to be here from Reno for the ceremonies and everything points to another dividend producer being added to the long list of properties of this section through the years of our golden history.

The mill will handle a minimum of 20 tons a day of gold ore averaging somewhere between $20 and $30 per ton, as nearly as can be determined by assays of the developed ore. The grade of the quartz milled will depend somewhat upon the sorting out of the high grade, which is to be sent to the Selby smelter of the American Smelting & Refining Co. on San Francisco Bay.

Ore from the mine is hoisted in a skip and dumped into a bin set in the head frame of the shaft. From this bin the ore is trammed a short distance to the 50-ton mill bin, passing over a grizzly, from where it feeds automatically to the crusher. The ore is crushed to one inch mesh and passes to the stamps, which reduce the quartz to 35-40 mesh. Amalgamation starts in the battery boxes, the discharge going to a 12-foot amalgamating plate. Residue from the plate is discharged onto a Whifley table which acts as a classifier. From the Wilfley table the sands pass to a Diester Plato table for concentration and the slimes to a vanner.

Mill tests indicate a recovery of 50 per cent of the gold by amalgamation and 95 per cent of the remaining values in the concentrates. The Diester table and the vanner discharge into the tail race which is equipped with an automatic sampler to check on the values contained in the tailings. Another sampler has been installed to sample the high-grade ore before shipment.

The mine is opened to a depth of 400 feet by an incline shaft. On the 400-foot level a continuous one-shoot has been developed over a length of 100 feet east and 200 feet west of the shaft and five stopes have been opened. From the 400 level a raise has been driven 105 feet in ore to the 300 level and an ore pocket has been cut in the shaft below the 300, through which ore above that level will be loaded.

The ore body on the 400 level is of greater width and better value than on the levels above and in several places rich sulphides occur. A sample across three feet in No. 2 stope. 300 feet west, assayed 4.45 oz. in gold, a value of $91.98 per ton. A selected sample of the rich ore ran 12.45 ounces per ton, $257-.36. About 30 tons of high-grade has been sorted in the mine and it is the purpose of the company to ship this ore to the Selby smelter next week.

On the 400 foot level there are two branches of the vein east of the shaft, the one on the hanging-wall side being designated as the South vein. Some very good ore has been found in this vein and it will be developed farther, both on the 400 and 300 levels. The Davis brothers, from whom the mine was purhased, took out $25,000 in a limited area, principally west of the shaft, and left a considerable quantity of mill ore. On the 200-foot level in the drift near one of the old stopes ore of good mill grade is standing and a streak of rich quartz here assayed $257.36.

The shaft was down to the 300-level when the Western Merger Co. took charge of the property. It was sunk 135 feet in ore, with a 30-foot sump below the 400. Drifts will be extended east and west on the bottom level and from the west drift a crosscut will be driven south to cut the Jackson vein, which shows a much greater width on the surface than the Randolph vein that is now being worked.

The Western Merger property is in a wooded country and mine timbers are purchased at a saw mill nearby. The mine has developed beyond expectations and promises to become a steady producer of gold and a profitable property. A. A. Codd of Reno is president of the company and H. B. Skewes is general superintendent. The stock is listed on the San Francisco Mining Exchanuge. (Nevada Mining Press.)

R. N. McCORMACK HURT IN ACCIDENT LAST WEEK

R. N. McCormack suffered a serious injury while at work at his Gracey mining property early last week. A crowbar which he was using to mesh the gears on a tractor being used to clear the mill site at the mine let go with such force that it struck his left leg below the knee, shattering the bones.

The wounded man was rushed to the Nevada City Sanitarium where the injury was given attention by Dr. Tickell. It was decided to remove Mr. McCormack to Sacramento for further attention and he was taken there in the Holmes ambulance, standing the trip well and it is trusted that he will recover fully from the accident.

When Jacob Kolffer failed to show up at the Gibraltar mine above Downieville the day he set out, his friends became worried and were about to organize searching parties when word came from the mine that he had showed up alright after spending the night sleeping out in the snow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shurtleff had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Pottef, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shurtleff and sons and Mr. Gardner.

The sixth graders at the grammar school defeated the fifth graders in a ball game at the high school grounds the past week, 36 to 13. The sixth graders have won two out of three games played which makes them quite chesty.

BOUNDARY MINE SHOWS FINE CONTINUED VALUES

Underground operations at the Boundary mine which has become one of the leading producers of the district the past year, consist of drifting to the north in the Scotia ground. The ore occurs in a diabase and diorite formation and shows a pay width of two and a half feet. There is ample ground for extensive operations at this property. Ten stamps are dropping steadily 24 hours a day.

MILL PREPARATIONS ARE PROGRESSING AT GRACEY

Work of excevating for the foundations for the new 10 stamp mill at the Gracey property are progressing favorably and work of pouring the concrete is expected to commence this week. The mill is being hauled from its former location at thes Ben Hur Divice property south of Grass Valley. The stamps are 1250 pounders and are in excellent condition. Underground work has been suspended while the mill is being made ready.

HENRY WALKER PASSES

Henry Walker, former prominent county official, passad away in Grass Valley Saturday atfer a lingering illness. He had been sheriff, deputy recorder and under ex-sheriff W. G. Robson had been under sheriff.

He was a native of Grass Valley, being born Dec. 11, 1862. He served apprenticeship as a printer for the Union and left that to become deputy postmaster and later city assessor, deputy county assessor and recorder. In 1902 he was elected sheriff and served for twelve years. Fraternally he was a member of the various Masonic bodies, Native Sons, Half Century Club and Sportsmen Club. His only surviving relative is his sister, Miss Elspeth Walker. The funeral services are being held this afternoon from the late home, conducted by Rev. E. O. Chapel and services at the grave will be under the auspices of Madison Lodge. The funeral arrangements are by W. R. Jefford & Son.

County surveyor J. F. O'Connor accompanied the supervisors on a tour of inspection of the east end of the county last week and checked up on the new bridge to be built over the Truckee river at Boca to replace the one that went out in the recent flood waters. Plans and specifications are being prepared for the new structure. Supervisor Charles Hope of Truckee will make other repairs in his district to repair flood damage.

Clark Brown of Downieville was a last week business visitor.

SWIMMING POOL IS COMING FRONT WITH CITY DADS

As predicted inThe Nugget for some weeks past, the city election is bringing the swimming pool issue to the front again and it is likely that a special election will be called at an early date to decide the matter and permit the voters to devote the money to other uses. As long as the problem of maintenance is unsolved the trustees, new and old, are a unit in not expending the funds until some means other than laying a burden on the taxpayers is found.

The matter was broached by Trustee Armstrong during the course of the monthly ceremonies on Thursday evening and the upshot was that the trustees will hold a special meeting in the near future to thresh out the problem and submit some plan to the voters whereby the funds can be expended at an early date.

The meeting moved with snap and precision throughout and when the hour of 9:30 had arrived the business had been transacted and adjournment taken.

That is something new in the annals of the board meetings which have usually been of the long winded variety with much gabfesting.

Bids were opened for the purchase of fire house and the Miners Foundry was the only local bidder represented. The matter was turned over to the board of fire delegates for action and they decided on a purchase of 400 feet of 2½ inch hose from the Eureka Fire Hose Company after an exhaustive examination of the samples submitted.

The city government was departmentalized with Trustee Bennetts in charge of the streets; Murchie, lights; Armstrong, water and Seaman sewers. They will be in direct charge of their various departments but will consult with the balance of the board on matters involving unusual expenditures.

One business man was on hand to ask for a reduction of his water bill and the matter was taken under advisement. Several members of the board were in favor of putting meters on such service and gradually place the metering on every customer as being the most equitable method of charging for the water used.

The water collections for the past month were $1412.75 as reported by Collector Ada Rich.

The echo of the recent trial in which the City was the deendant in the action brought by William McKean on the rock crushing contract was seen in a number of bills presented by witnesses which the city had brought here from various points and most of them were in the amount of $50. The City Attorney Nilon was awarded $250 for counsel services. No action has yet been taken with regard to the $3250 award made by Judge Pullen.

The city treasurer's report showed water receipts of $1412.75, miscellaneous $53.00, licenses $6.50, taxes 31.75 and collections by F. F. Breese of $18.05. February disbursements totalled $897.41 from the general fund, $132.55 from the fire fund and $182.96 from the library fund.

CHABER OF COMMERCE DANCE PROMISES LARGE

The old fashioned dance to be staged by the Chamber of Commerce on May 5th promises to be one of the interesting social event of the spring season. Dick Goyne, who put on the May pole dance last year, will have a special feature again this time but the nature of it is being kept a deep, dark secret. Miss Agnes O'Neill will have charge of the musical part of the program. Prizes will be awarded as usual for the custuming.

The proceeds of the dance will be used for civic improvement of our city by the Chamber.

BEAUTIFUL WILD FLOWERS BLOOM ALONG HIWAY

The wild flowers are all abloom throughout the countryside as a Sunday drive disclosed yesterday. Some of our wild flowers were picked the past week and sent to the annual California Wild Flower Show in San Francisco but not as a Nevada county exhibit as there was not time for the gathering of a complete showing. In a drive between here and North San Juan yesterday, the publishers of The Nugget founr and picked thirty five different varieties of wild flowers which are being shown at the Washington grammar school today for the benefit of the school children.

DANCE WAS POSTPONED TO NEXT SATURDAY

The benefit dance which was to have been given at North San Juan on Saturday night was postponed to next Saturday evening on account of conflicting events. The proceeds are to be used for the San Juan Water Users Association and past affairs conducted under these auspices have been most happy occasions and this one should prove no exception to the rule. Excellent music for the dancing has been provided.

Miss Ida Phillips has returned to her duties in Sacramento after spending a time with local relatives.

UKIAH TAHOE ROUTE TO RECEIVE ATTENTION

Marysville may not pull very well with Nevada county when it comes to discussing hydraulic mining but in the matter of getting the Tahoe Ukiah state highway completed they are there a million. State diretcor B. B. Meek assured a bunch of Marysville boosters the other night that engineers would make selection of the eastern end o fthe route before the end of the present year which will be very cheering news. The link in Lake county is scheduled for completion by August 1st which will tie Nevada City with Ukiah by a direct cross state route.

SIERRA COUNTY HAS MINING LOCATIONS

DOWNIEVILLE, April 21, 1928, (Special to The Nugget)—The following Placer locations have been recorded in Sierra county during the week: Rena Morgan has located the Moon River Placer, on the North Fork above Downieville. H. C. Hurlburt has located the H. C. H. Placer Claim, in Van Joan Canyon. W. E. Morgan et al have located the Gold Bug Placer claim on the East Fork, about 4 miles above Downieville.

MEYER SELLS STORE TO M. P. FISCHER

Downieville, April 21, (Special to The Nugget)—The grocery business of R. H. Meyer, of this place, has recently been sold to M. P. Fischer, owner of the Nevada City-Downieville stage line. W. L. Carter will manage the business for the new owner. The transfer, which took place about the first of the month, terminates many years of successful business under the management of the former owner, R. H. Meyer. Meyer began in business more than a decade ago, in the old Byington Building, and later moved across the street to his own building, where he has built the business up to its present large proportions. Mr. Fischer, the new owner, is well known throughout the mountain districts, and the continued growth of his new venture is certain.

Mr. Meyer will move his family shortly to Greenville, Plumas county, where he has bought a ranch.

DOWNIEVILLE CORRESPONDENT THINKS CLERKS INEFFICIENT

Downieville, April 21, (Special to The Nugget)—Numerous automobile parties arrived here last week on their way east over the Yuba Pass. Almost without exeption the tourists declared that they had been told by the Automobile Association in Sacramento that the Yuba Pass was absolutely blocked with snow, and would not be opened for over a week. This is a repitition of the erroneous reports given out every spring by the Association, either through gross ignorance of conditions or deliberate design to discredit the road. It is evident that a change should be made somewhere, either among the inefficient clerks who give out information without investigation, or among the heads of the Association, who are unwilling to admit the superiority of the route.

FRENCH CORRAL, April 21, (Special to The Nugget)—"April showers bring May flowers,"—Well, we are living that old saying right now and pretty nippy weather with the showers. But the flowers are here too, in all their lovliness to gladden the hearts of both young and old.

The Observer has noted that many a man thinks his wife couldn't get along without him and would be surprised if he knew that she simply endures him for the children's sake.

The observer says a man is something that can see a pretty ankle three blocks away whle driving a motor car in a crowded city street, but will fail to notice, in the wide, open countryside, the approach of a locomotive the size of a school house and accompanied by a flock of forty-two box cars.

A BIT OF HISTORY

Historian's sometimes, are irritating people: they mark this year or that as a notable event because such and such a battle was fought that year, or some half-forgotten King came to the throne—when as a matter of fact, what interests us most, is how people lived, what they bought, the prices they paid for things, and so on—facts, in other words, that you and I have to face today.

It is as trues now as it was in the past, that your reliable local merchants areimportantfactors in the community, making for stability and progress. Every dollar spent here helps this section. Dollars spent elsewhere build up other sections.

Editor The Nugget—

MR. WISKER'S GOATS

Back in Salem, Massachusetts in the good old Puritan days of witchcraft, when things went wrong they used to lay the blame on some poor old spinster, then take her out and burn her at the stake. It was rather hard on the old maids of that day, but it didn't matter much as long as the good people were satisfied in thus making an end to the cause of all their troubles.

In these enlightened days it would hardly do to go so far, so we have a less fatal but annoying game commonly called "passing the buck," and when things go wrong and disaster threatens—when promises are made which are impossible of fulfillment, it is always nice as well as convenient to have some one or something to drape the mantle of gloom over.

Now the Nevada Irrigation District hasn't been functioning well for some time, in fact practically none of the rosy pictures that were conjured up to whet the enthusiasm of the farmer and land owner have materialized, so it becomes increasingly necessary for the manager and his editorial staff to select the necessary goat to lay the blame on.

There is also the MINOR item of a reported overdraft of $288,000.

Up to the present time almost the entire bond issue of seven and a quarter million dollars is either spent or allocated on work now being completed and the only ones who have made any money, or derived any immediate benefit are the contractors, the engineers and those who promoted the enterprise—and they have done quite well, thank you.

The District entered into a contract with the Pacific Gas & Electric Company in April, 1924. This contract is published in the 1924 Bulletin of the District, and from the tenor of the managers "comments" inserted throughout one is led to believe that the P. G. & E. either didn't know what they were doing or had assumed the role of Santa Claus to the District—that the District had put one over on the poor old P. G. & E. Co. In fact it almost made tears come into your eyes to see how this poor old company had been stuck to pay all the future indebtedness of the District.

This contract calls for the delivery of 108,000 acre feet of water to be delivered at Lake Spaulding for a period of nine months in each year at a rate not in excess of 220 cubic feet per second. But this contract implies something more and if you will figure it out you will find that, in order to make possible the delivery of this amount of water in the time specified, it will be necessary to have a constant minimum delivery of 201 cubic feet per second. If the average delivery is less than that it is obvious that the contract cannot be fulfilled, as it is also obvious that a fairly constant flow of water is necessary both in the design and operation of an electric plant. In fact the contract plainly states that the Company will not be obliged to construct the Rim power plant until such time as the District shall be able to deliver the amount of water specified.

The P. G. & E. Co. knew full well, and has known it all along, that the District would be unable to make delivery of this amount of water through its conduits and has wisely made no move toward construction of this plant pending some further adjustment of either contact or delivery.

The planning of a conduit capable of delivering 220 second feet, provided you have the water, requires no special or hydraulic engineering; it is comparatively a simple problem and if it were left to almost any practical ditch man, he would undoubtedly not only make the canal large enough but would see that it had grade enough to keep it from being blocked by snows during the winter season and to get it to its destination in the summer before seepage and evaporation took a large percentage of its bulk.

The ten miles of canal, tunnel and flume between Bowman's and Spaulding has cost the District over $900,000 and one would naturally suppose that the outstanding object of the engineer would be to see that its size was ample for all future uses.

We notice in the budget for the expenditure of the $2,592,000 new bonds now asked to be voted for an item for a ten per cent increase in the carrying capacity of the Bowman-Spaulding canal and yet the manager's "calliope" under date of March 18th. says "The engineering department of the Nevada Irrigation District comprises able engineers well versed in such projects, and the emphatic statement is made that the canals and flumes will meet all requirements and carry the maximum flow contemplated under the contract."

Frankly, we don't understand why it is necessary to enlarge a conduit which is already large enough, because it is going to cost a lot of money to enlarge tunnels and canals, while the flume will either have to be rebuilt entirely or another parallel one constructed. It not only entails great expense but it means long and unnecessary delay in the delivery of water and in income which is so vitally necessary at this time. Well may the landowners ask "Why was it not made large enough in the first place?"

In order to camouflage blunders like this—and this is only one—the editorial calliope, which has been such an aid and comfort to the manager in his quite successful ambition to accumulate a nest egg for his old age, now states editorially that "the unwarranted opposition of a year ago to the power extension program is directly responsible" for the present financial predicament of the District; referring of course to those who were not credulous to swallow the set up of the notorious Pacific Electric & Development contract.

A FURTHER WORD ABOUT IRRIGATION ELECTION LAWS

The news recently released by the Nevada Irrigation District shows that property qualification is required in the signers of the Petition, and not only must they be landowners, but apparently the nubber of acres they own collectively affects the power of the Petition. That is, the signers of the Petition must own collectively a certain minimum acreage to make the Petition effective. A cursory reading of the law by a layman gives him the impression that not only must a signer of the Petition be a landowers within the district but he may sign the Petition (and his signature would be perfectly valid) even though he resides, and is registered, outside the district. This is quite inconsistent with, and contradictory of, the provisions governing the qualifications for an elector; and the two combined put the absentee landowner, who wishes to vote in the negative, at a distinct disadvantage.

It is nearly certain that the fear of a Land Tax is what made so many landowners sign the Petition with such alacrity. But they should remember that a second mortgage on a farm is a disagreeable and dangerous thing, and ask themselves this question, Is it likely that under the present management the district will be able to pay interest on the bonds out of revenue next year? If not, they might as well take their medicine now.

MOUNTAIN LION STARTLES CAMPTONVILLE PEOPLE

CAMPTONVILLE, April 21, (Special to The Nugget)— A number of local residents were startled Thursday night about eleven o'clock by the shrill cries of a California lion. From the sound, the animal was right near the lower part of town, possibly in the old diggins below the stage barn.

Although they are seldom seen in day time, lions are prevalent in this locality, and it is not unusual to hear them at night from any part of town. Some steep canyons and rugged places border the town limits, which make a suitable roaming place for these animals.

MRS. F. M. GROVES HOSTESS

The Groves home on Spring street was the setting for another delightful birthday party last Saturday evening when Mrs. Frank M. Groves entertained a number of her friends.

The evening was spent in cards and other amusement, the guests having a very nejoyable evening. Refreshments were served at a late hour much to the delight of those attending.

The following were present: Mesdames Eugene H. Hays, Leonard L. Bishop, Laurel C. Ruff, M. G. Calvin, Frank M. Groves, Misses Lydia O. Groves, Mary M. Groves.

MISS ALEXANDER ILL

Miss Belle Alexander, County Superintendent of Schools of Sierra County, and former local school teacher, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. Miss Alexander was very ill for several days, necessitating the closing of school. Her many friends rejoice at her speedy recovery.

POLECAT NOT WANTED

The Forest, at the store of the Meek Mercantile Company, is becoming more realistic each day, and now even the wild animals think it belongs to the wildwoods. This is true because the other evening, Mr. Meek hearing a noise at the rear of the building investigated, and there to his sudden surprise, found a skunk at the back door. Any other kind of a forest visitor might have been admitted, but this scented beauty of the wildwoods, was ushered away in great haste, and made to feel that his presence was not wanted, and he, too, probably realized that ice cream sodas and candy was not to his liking, not near so as some farmyard chicken house.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Public School Week, an annual occasion of the state which is always observed locally, will be held either April 27th or May 4th., exact date to be announced later, depending upon the weather and the convenience of some of the people participating.

A very fine program is being arranged for this occassion, which includes an exhibition of the Tumbling Team of the Marysville union high school, and some fine musical numbers. Mr. Elmer Stevens, a prominent young man of Sacramento will be speaker of the evening, and a most worth while meeting is looked forward to.

AH SONG PASSES

Ah Song, familiarly known as "Rat Eye", the last of the Orientals of this place, who was recently taken to the county hospital at Marysville, died there a few days ago.

The old Chinese had lived here for many years, coming in the early days, no one knowing how old he was, but it being presumed that he was considerable over eighty. He came here when there were several hundred of his race mining throughout the hills, and stayed it out until he remained the sole survivor of his kind in this section. Even though he spent most of his life here, he could speak but little English. He was a kind hearted old Chinaman and liked by everyone, and his absence will be noticed by his friends.

NEWSPAPER ADS. BRING MANY REPLIES

That advertisements are read and cause readers to act where the advertisements contain a message of interest or value to the reader is indicated by a recent experience of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

During the last week the March Company published an average sized notice in local newspapers throughout the territory served, advising its consumers that those qualifying for the new reduced domestic electric rate would receive this reduced rate upon the filing of applications which had been mailed to consumers. The response resulted in the return of over 30,000 of these applications during the first ten days of April. According to J. Charles Jordan, Publicity Manager of the Company, applications continue to come in at the rate of 750 per day.

STATE CONTROLLER REPORTS BONDED DEBTS PILING UP

State Controller Ray L. Riley reports that the bonded debts of California municipalities, counties and state functions have increased $39,000,000 during the last fiscal year. Riley claims that the outstanding public bonds equalled 7 per cent of the non-operative roll, compared with 4 per cent in 1911, or an increase of 403 per cent in sixteen years. During the same period the property on the non-operative rolls that is assessed and taxed for the retirement of bond issues, interests, etc., increased only 212 per cent. In some instances bonds have been fixed with the first date of redemption fixed far in the future, which is a dangerous practice.

In ethics you cannot better the golden rule.

One of the 30,000 California women who cook with electricity

The morning shower refreshed the air. Warm sunshine has dried the grass. It is an afternoon to be outside.

Friends are coming for dinner—four people beside the family! And this woman is spending the afternoon in her garden.

She uses an electric range. The whole dinner was placed in the oven at one o'clock. At four, the electricity turned on and started the meal cooking. A Temperature Control keeps the oven at the proper temperature. At six, the current will turn off. The insulated oven will keep the meal warm until dinner is served.

That is the freedom you'll enjoy with electric cooking.

Why don't you eliminate the monotony of preparing meals by using an electric range? You can see them at our office.

New rates make electric cooking very economical
